

Social and Personal

A very large meeting of the Richmond Chapter, Daughters of the Confederacy, was held in Lee Camp Hall yesterday afternoon. Mrs. N. V. Randolph presiding.

Annual dues were collected. Mrs. Edgar D. Taylor made the interesting report from the Davis Monument Association, in which she stated that Mr. William C. Noland's design for the memorial to Mr. Davis, with Mr. E. V. Valentine as sculptor, had been accepted by the Board of Directors of the entire Southern States and the Charleston Convention last November.

The report of the Stuart Monument Committee was disappointing in the small response elicited by the envelopes sent out. The Daughters were none the less enthusiastic in their determination to aid the veterans, and a series of entertainments for that purpose will be planned and given very soon.

Mrs. Walter Christian was appointed chairman of the committee to make arrangements for the annual tea of the chapter. Mrs. Christian will select her own corps of assistants.

The Crosses of Honor will be conferred with an appropriate ceremonial on the evening of January 19th, in Lee Camp Hall. The informal address on that occasion will be made by General Eppa Hunton, of Warrenton, Va.

The music will be under the direction of Mr. Walter Watkins. Sixty-five crosses will be presented to the committee of presentation to be appointed by Mrs. Randolph.

A "silver tea" will be given from 5 to 7 P. M., January 26th, in the hall by the Junior Hollywood Memorial Association. It is hoped that the members of the Richmond Chapter, the friends of the Juniors and all who are interested in their work will attend the tea.

A report was received from Mrs. Geo. A. Lyon, the Virginia representative, in regard to the late plates which will be given out for the benefit of the Davis monument. The Virginia plate will have the bust of General Robert E. Lee in the center, with the Lee coat of arms and the State seal. Other designs will be announced later.

The routine business a memorial service was held last afternoon. Mrs. C. W. P. Brock asked the privilege of the floor to recommend the sending of the letters of sympathy and in respect to the families of General Gordon and Longstreet. The secretary was directed to write letters to Mrs. Janney and Miss Boshier expressing the sorrow felt by the chapter over the death of Mr. Robert S. Boshier, held in the highest esteem by them as a man and a citizen, and because of his well known loyalty and devotion to the Confederacy.

Others mentioned in the same connection were Mrs. A. R. Courtney, General McClellan, of Kentucky, and Mrs. W. D. Smith, of Fredericksburg, a sister of Mrs. William Wade.

The chapter also decided to send a letter of condolence to Mrs. Grover Cleveland, whom they have always admired as a wife and mother, and for whom they feel much sympathy in the death of her little daughter, Ruth.

Davis—Roach.
Miss Lillie Jeannette Roach, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Roach, was married Tuesday evening, January 12th, to Mr. William Catlin Davis, of this city.

The ceremony was performed at "Millbank," the home of the bride's parents, in Stafford county, near Fredericksburg. Rev. H. A. Barber, of Fredericksburg, officiated. Miss Elizabeth Roach, sister of the bride, was maid of honor, and Mr. J. V. Barrett, of Richmond, was best man.

Mme. Anita Heineck-Lloyd.
Madame Anita Heineck-Lloyd has located in Richmond a new and elegant studio parlor at No. 508 East Grace Street. Madame comes recommended by such authorities as Desirée Artot, of Paris, and Ferdinand Liber, of Berlin. She has been assistant teacher to Francis Fisher-Powers, of New York, and has sung in concert abroad and in America. Madame's fine soprano voice will be heard in a solo, which she will sing by request at St. Paul's next Sunday, January 17th. She has also consented to sing at Holy Trinity.

Personal Mention.
Mrs. Clarence Cadot had some friends to meet Miss Lane, of Auburn, Alabama, informally last evening. Those present were: Miss Lane, Miss Marianne and Miss Kate Meade, Miss Lou Belle Catesby Jones, Miss Stanley Atkins, Mr. C. Graffentier Hobson, Mr. Wallace Carr, Mr. Victor Williams, Mr. R. L. M. Scott, Mr. Lewis Judkins and Mr. Jeff. Archer.

Mr. and Mrs. G. S. Nance, of Roxbury, Va., announce the approaching marriage of their daughter, Miss Susan Nance, to Mr. George Manie. The celebration will take place in Mount Pleasant Methodist Episcopal Church, at 6 P. M. Wednesday, January 27th.

Miss Sue Hampton Tyler, the daughter of former Governor J. Hoge Tyler, will visit Mrs. Presto Carson, on Floyd Avenue, the 26th of this month. This is Miss Tyler's first visit in Richmond since the family moved to Radford, and her friends will doubtless give her a warm welcome.

Mrs. Emma Moffatt Tyng returned to New York yesterday by the noon train. All those who met Mrs. Tyng or who heard her are hoping that she may give Richmond people the pleasure of her presence here again.

Mr. and Mrs. Rader, whose marriage took place recently at Murphy's Hotel, will leave shortly with Mrs. Rader's mother and sisters, Mrs. and Misses Best for New Mexico. From New Mexico the party will go to Southern California, and after Mr. and Mrs. Rader are settled there, the other members of the family will proceed to Florida to spend the winter. The Best home is at Roncoveite, W. Va.

Mrs. Charles L. Ledbetter, of Birmingham, Ala., with her little daughter, is visiting her mother, Mrs. S. F. Neale, at No. 141 Floyd Avenue.

Selections From Shakespeare.

There is perhaps no master of language that has ever compared to Shakespeare in the ability to express a whole train of thought with a few simple words. It is nothing short of magical to see how Shakespeare will put into language the half understood ideas of his fellowmen. We print this morning five short selections from Shakespeare, four of which have this magical power. The last selection describes the visions of Macbeth's brain when ambition had finally led him to decide upon the death of the King of Scotland. The selections are taken from the following dramas in this order: "Macbeth," "The Tempest," "Macbeth," "Macbeth," "Macbeth."

Life.

To-morrow, and to-morrow, and to-morrow.
Creeps in this petty pace from day to day,
To the last syllable of recorded time;
And all our yesterdays have lighted fools
The way to dusty death. Out, out, brief candle!
Life's but a walking shadow; a poor player,
That struts and frets his hour upon the stage,
And then is heard no more; it is a tale
Told by an idiot, full of sound and fury,
Signifying nothing.

Human Nature.

These our actors,
As I foretold you, were all spirits, and
Are melted into air, into thin air;
And, like the baseless fabric of this vision,
The cloud-capped towers, the gorgeous palaces,
The solemn temples, the great globe itself,
Yea, all which it inherit, shall dissolve;
And, like this insubstantial pageant faded,
Leave not a rack behind. We are such stuff
As dreams are made on, and our little life
Is rounded with a sleep.

The Repose of the Grave.

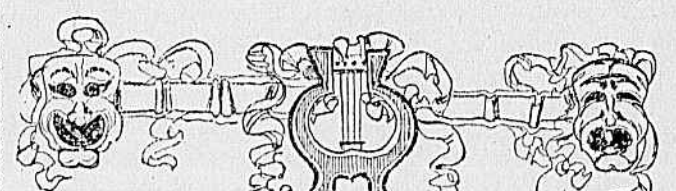

Duncan is in his grave;
After life's fitful fever, he sleeps well;
Treason has done his worst; nor steel, nor poison,
Malice domestic, foreign levy, nothing,
Can touch him further.

The Visionary Dagger.

Is this a dagger which I see before me
The handle toward my hand? Come, let me clutch thee!
I have thee not, and yet I see thee still.
Art thou not, fatal vision, sensible
To feeling as to sight? or art thou but
A dagger of the mind, a false creation,
Proceeding from the heat-oppressed brain?
I see thee yet, in form as palpable
As this which now I draw.
Thou marshall'st me the way that I was going;
And such an instrument I was to use.
Mine eyes are made the fools of the other senses,
Or else worth all the rest; I see thee still,
And on thy blade and dudgeon gouts of blood,
Which was not so before.—There's no such thing:
It is the bloody business which informs
Thus to mine eyes.

Disease of the Mind.

Macbeth.—Canst thou not minister to a mind diseased,
Pluck from the memory a rooted sorrow,
Raze out the written troubles of the brain,
And, with some sweet oblivious antidote,
Cleanse the stuffed bosom of that perilous stuff
Which weighs upon the heart?
Doctor.—Therein the patient
Must minister to himself.
Macbeth.—Throw physic to the dogs—I'll none of it.

BRAVE BLOSSOM OF TIBET

Perhaps as the English soldiers told over the rough country, and climb the giant Himalayas on the way to Tibet, some of the more observing will notice a little flower, that bravely blossoms on mountain heights which are destitute of trees and where no sturdy growths. Nations may quarrel over the possession of the country, but nature really owns the wild stretches of most of this bleak land and marks many of her holdings with the delicate flowers shown in this picture.

TO ENTERTAIN A FRIEND.

But how shall we entertain the visiting friend? Chiefly by letting him alone. Only the featherweight feel that they must be talked to all the time, shown about, "entertained." Such a person would complain of being forever left alone with the nightingale in the Forest of Arden; of being degenerate as set down among the "mildly bred" in the gardens of the Val d'Aoste. Let such persons resist of their own volition, give the guest the freedom of the house and the art of stunner if he wishes it. Let him do something to do for himself. So shall he find joy, and leave behind him a pleasant memory when he goes, some mark of his individuality, even as old Montaigne, on visiting every prince along his route, always left his coat of arms behind him as a mark of his individuality, and when made up, as in the prevailing fashion, over a painted lining of a deeper or lighter shade of pink chiton, and with girde of yellow, pink velvet, just the shade of the rose, carries out to perfection a remarkably nice color scheme. On another pink chiton is to be seen garlands and wreaths of pink roses, standing from the lightest pink to American Beauty rose color. These roses are of chiton, have the hearts made of the heads, as already described, and the flowers are connected by a delicate traced vine, outlined in pale green, done in the finest embroidery style.

HAND-PAINTED FABRICS.

Hand painted chiton gowns afford an unparalleled opportunity for really artistic work, and while there are always conservative people who look askance at painted materials, preferring instead the plain surface or brocaded designs, there are many of the more progressive and the beauty of many of the painted and their exquisite colorings. A pale pink chiton, with a hand painted design of deeper pink roses, is exquisite in coloring, and when made up, as in the prevailing fashion, over a painted lining of a deeper or lighter shade of pink chiton, and with girde of yellow, pink velvet, just the shade of the rose, carries out to perfection a remarkably nice color scheme. On another pink chiton is to be seen garlands and wreaths of pink roses, standing from the lightest pink to American Beauty rose color. These roses are of chiton, have the hearts made of the heads, as already described, and the flowers are connected by a delicate traced vine, outlined in pale green, done in the finest embroidery style.

PRESIDENT IN ACCORD

Will do All in His Power to Aid National Arbitration Conference.

COMMITTEE CALLS ON HIM

After Discussing Matter With Mr. Roosevelt, Called on Secretary of State Hay.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 13.—Hon. H. St. George Tucker, dean of the law faculty of Columbia University, headed the committee from the National Arbitration Conference which called on the President to-day and presented resolutions adopted by the conference at the session held in this city yesterday. The resolutions recommend the negotiation of a treaty with Great Britain to submit to arbitration by the permanent court at The Hague, or by some court specially constituted for the case, differences between the two countries of diplomacy and by also recommending that the two governments agree not to resort to hostile measures in any case until an effort had been made to settle differences by arbitration. The further recommendation was made that this government enter into similar agreements with other powers as soon as practicable.

FRENCH INFLUENCE.

This Has Averted War Up to the Present Time.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
NEW YORK, Jan. 13.—The opinion is expressed in banking circles that war between Russia and Japan would have broken out long before this but for the restraining influence which the French government has had on Russia. The French people hold out $1,400,000,000 of Russian securities, and when French bankers were asked to float a war loan for Russia they practically refused. The Russians then turned to Berlin, but the French government is doing everything possible to prevent a rupture, and if these efforts fail to bring about an agreement among the powers to confine the war to Russia and Japan, another point working for delay is that Russia has bought a large amount of provisions here under contract that they be cleared by January 23d, and this means a delay of at least ten days in further war developments.

W. L. Clement Lumber Company, Danville; D. A. Overly president; capital stock increased by amendment to $100,000.
Chamber of Commerce of the city of Roanoke, Va.; B. P. Huff president; real estate limited to five acres.
The Greenview Insurance Company of New York, and the Standard Guaranty Trust Company of Baltimore were licensed to do business in Virginia.

Mr. Moseley Returns.

Mr. W. Gray Moseley, who has been with the Prudential Insurance Company in Rochester, N. Y., has returned to Richmond and will now be associated with the same company, under Blackford and Wilmer, the general agents for Virginia. Mr. Moseley has been in the position of inspector of agencies for the Central New York District, and his many friends will be glad to know of his transfer to Virginia.

Suits Entered.

In the City Circuit Court yesterday suits were entered by the Virginia-Carolina Grocery Company vs. Beckwith and Dornier for $5,200; and by the Richmond and Petersburg Electric Railway Company for $2,000.

Time for Shooting Robins.

A mistaken impression seems to have gotten out as to the time in which robins may be killed. Warden Lynham calls attention to the fact that they may be shot between February 1st and April 1st.

The Delineator

FOR FEBRUARY IS NOW ON SALE

MRS. OSBORN is a creator of styles for the best dressed social circle in the world. In her letter this month she tells about the 1830 skirt. This is the first comprehensive and intelligent description of its cut, hang and length. Mrs. Osborn knows these things because she herself is a member of the smart set and their smartest dressmaker.

In addition to what she says are the seventy new fashion suggestions of our own designers. With The Delineator as a guide, you can go to your own dressmaker and get a really smart gown, or you can make one yourself.

Daily attention to the simple and easy suggestions of Doctor Grace Peckham Murray will make

Every Woman More Beautiful

In these papers, entitled "The Fountain of Youth," now running in The Delineator, Dr. Murray tells just what to do to make your hair glossy, your skin soft, your teeth white, your eyes clear and your hands beautiful.

The Greatest Music in the World is heard in the Metropolitan Opera House in New York. No woman, who cares for grand opera and great singers, can fail to be moved by the stories of their home lives in the Prima Donna Series. Calvé's story is told with rare sympathy and knowledge in the February number.

In addition to these three special features there is something for every department of the home and of woman's life. The Delineator tells: How to make home homelike; How to solve kitchen problems and prepare daily dishes; How to arrange your dining-room, decorate your table and serve your dinner; How to make all the rooms of your house artistic without great expense; How to do all sorts of needlework and fancy-work; How to train and develop your children; How to amuse and cultivate your mind.
